

(4). TITLE.:- RED WINE OF ITALY.

Picture.:- The whole town is decorated with festoons of grapes, in honour of the festival, and,--

--what is, perhaps, more exciting to the people, the public fountains are filled with wine, which is doled--

--out to all and sundry - free, gratis, and for nothing.
Are they eager--

--for their share ? XXXX Well, just look at them ! XXXX
They "don't mind if they do !?"

It looks as though it's going to be a pretty "wet"
day in Marino ! XXXX Only "babes in arms"--

--are barred ! XXXX They have to keep to their white wine - from the cow !

When the distribution of "buckshee" wine is over, the people cast longing--

--eyes on the festoons of grapes ! XXXX Whoop ! Another downfall through drink ! XXXX

Every balcony is full of people watching the fun in the streets--

--below ! XXXX There won't be many grapes left when they've all had--

--their fill ! XXXXX It's a "grape" day for them all !
Tak ! tak ! tak !!
