

(10).

TITLE.:- BONFIRE NIGHT.

Picture. :- Although it is three-and-a-quarter centuries since that misguided young man, Guy Fawkes, was caught--
--in the act of trying to blow up Parliament -we can't forget it ! XXXX Bridgewater, in particular, celebrates the anniversary of the event in brilliant style !

People come from all parts to "make whoopee", because Parliament was saved ! (Some people will still wonder what there is in that to rejoice over !) XXXXX

The old town is under the rule of fire demons, who literally "set things alight". ! XXXXXX They don't-- --trouble to "burn a guy" -for they know that the original of that ilk ended his career on the end of a rope, and not--
--at the stake, as many still believe. XXXXX A squib competition brings the night's festivities to a fitting finish. ! ----- Everybody "saves up" all the year for these celebrations - and then "blow" all their savings in a few hours ! XXXXXX Such is life !

AND SO FOR THE PRESENT -----