GAR WOOD FAILS - Veteran motor-boat racer
attempts to beat Kaye Don's record.

-New York.-

(10).

Picture.:- It is Gar Wood's first public appearance since he was accused of tricking Kaye Don out of the Harmsworth Trophy at Detroit, in the summer. XXXX With "Miss America the Ninth" he is trying to beat--

--Kaye Don's world-record of 110.28 miles an hour set up on lake Garda, Italy in July.

Wood is getting every ounce out of his boat, and the speed is terrific ! XXXX But it's not enough, and it is pretty obvious that Kaye Don's record is in no danger. XXXX Ninety-four is good, but it might as well be "the odd four" only, when the record is a hundred-and-ten !

It's just a case of Gar Wood, but his boat wouldn't !

XXXXXXXX "Miss America the Ninth" is the same craft which caused disaster to Kaye Don's "Miss England the Second". XXXXX Well, we wbn't rake up the past. XXXXX All we're concerned with is that the wonderful performance put up by our own Kaye Don still stands as the world's water speed record !
