ARMISTICE DAY IN INDIA - How Calcutta observed the 13th anniversary of the end of the Great War.

Picture:- It is good to remember that our own cenotaph is also a glorious beacon which radiates its patriotic message--

--to the furthest outposts of our Empire. Here in Bengal, His Excellency the Governor lays the first memorial wreath--

--and soon the foot of Calcutta's cenotaph is hidden under a mass of tributes from loyal subjects of His Majesty the King.

As in Bengal, so in other far flung British possessions, the memory of--

--English speaking people turns towards that day when the guns were silenced and destruction ceased.
