GREAT SUGAR FIRE - 5,000 tons of beet sugar destroyed in mighty blaze near Cologne.

-Germany-

Picture.:- This is the scene of a disastrous fire-- --which occurred at Dormagen on the Rhine.

A sugar factory stocked with 1 hundred thousand-- --hundred weight of sugar beet has been completely destroyed.

As it heated the product became--
--a molten mass. For almost eight days it--
--defied all efforts of the fire fighters. The intolerable heat made--
--it impossible to get anywhere near the--
--seat of the conflagration, until the burning-- --sugar had lost its furnace-like-- --fierceness. Risky work for the firemen too, and in-- --these times, a terrible disaster for employers and employees !
