

A HUNTING MORN - Record meet of the West Norfolk
Foxhounds enjoys a good day's sport.

Picture:- The Boxing Day Meet of the West Norfolk Fox Hounds was a record for the pack. Should have been a cold--

--and frosty morning, instead of a mild, muddy one, but apart from that all--

--was well ! That's the way to run a Hunt !

Hair of the dog that bit him the night before, maybe !
Now we're fit !

Talking of dogs, Lady Edward Hay's baby daughter knows friends when she sees them.

This old English custom still attracts the enthusiastic and, perhaps, the curious ! This is the only event--

--where green and red make a good colour scheme.

Tally Ho ! There's the fox himself.

And they've struck the scent ! All excitement now !
But Reynard has a good-- --start. The sheep wonder what all the to-do is about.

A strong lead now ! And the hounds are following the scent keenly. I expect the fox has gone to ground by-- --this time. Never mind ! Where's that footman with the tray ?
