A NEW BALL GAME - Inventor suffers defeat
by a pupil, in first Codeball tournament.

-Chicago U.S.A.-

Picture:- Sports prophets in America say that this game of Code--

--Ball will soon be as widely played--
--as tennis. Well, it may be ! You can-- --judge for yourself ! Here, the-- --originator, Dr. William Code, and one of his-- --star pupils Mr. Webster are-- --playing the final game of the tournament. Only the feet may--
--be used, never the hands, --
--except to prepare the ball for a --
--serve. It is kicked to the wall and may be-- --returned on the second bounce. He's bounced now !

It seems a sort of half-brother to the Eton Game of Fives and Spanish pelota. The pupil wins and gets--
--the first cup ever given for the game.
