

C-174881

-7-

FUN IN THE SNOW - After-dark scenes in the newly-discovered winter sports playground -
 -Scotland-

Picture.:- In this sort of game Scots folk do not fail to see the joke. A snow-ball battle - Great fun ! - - And snow is cheaper than confetti, anyway ! "Ooh ! But the some of you are awfu' puir shots." Even in Scotland snow is not-- --always present. When it is the chance is not missed. Exhibition skating by torchlight is an after-dinner turn that can't be seen in a London Cabaret show, anyway !

The lady prefers to light her own path, and dispense with her torchbearers. (See that curious reflection effect ?) This is the way modern Helen MacGregors rouse the men folk to gather, gather, gather. (You know the song, don't you ?) - She'll sing the cameraman's whiskers in a minute - "Noo ! What about a wee deoch an' doris an' awa to bed ?"