FIGHTING POLICE - Stirring boxing match between P.C. Titmus of England, and Ramek, a German policeman.

-Berlin-

Picture:- These English and Germans are meeting under more sportsmanlike rules than--

--when they faced each other in 1914. They are giving--
--and taking hard--
--knocks in the proper spirit this-- --time. Oush ! - A nasty one for the German !

Exhibitions like this on the part of policemen should make--

--law-breakers think twice. Some weight behind those-- --fists, too ! Oh, --

--the Englishman P.C. Titmus is the one in white shorts - and he's down, but not for long !

No, he's up again !

But the German lands another dangerous punch.

Not a fast fight, --

--but a merry one ! The referee doesn't like affection in the ring.

The fight is declared a draw, and the two German and English bobbies have a friendly chat. Just as it should be ! Stout fellows !
