

NICE CARNIVAL - Once again King Carnival parades
the streets of the Riviera holiday resort.

-France-

Picture:- On the shores of the blue Mediterranean Nice says a boistrous--

--farewell to its winter season visitors. For the thirty-

--fourth time Father Carnival is recreated. Every grotesque face and figure one can conceive is here, and many so-- --grotesque that they are beyond conception. Live and laugh is to-day slogan, and as the-- --evening comes love is added and makes the motto all embracing. Life bubbles--

--like the sparkling wine served in the cafes on the Boulevards. Music, colour, and noisy-- --gaiety are part of the joyous procession. Not so many English visitors this year! One can't hit-- --the high spots with a falling pound, but those who are here won't forget the dancing feet and laughing eyes of Carnival Time.

AND SO, FOR THE PRESENT, I LEAVE YOU !
