

MAN-NEQUINE PARADE - Bathing fashions of bygone days on parade at Norbreck, Blackpool.

-Lancashire-

Picture:- A mannequin parade in the good old days of 1880. Aren't these bobbing costumes of our grandparents just awful? What an uncomfortable thing bathing must have been, both to engage in and-- --to look at. To see one's beloved in one of these was surely enough to smash any romance (splash). I suppose that is how they damped the ardour of an amorous swain! I said swain! I daren't tell you what he said!

Ah! Well of course!, that's different! I don't mind dreaming of the past if I wake up to realities of this kind!
