1928.

Picture.:- Nearly four years ago the Duchess of York performed the-- --ceremony which named this vessel after her. To-day Her Highness accompanied-- --by the Duke visits the ship on its return from the West Indies.

During a thorough inspection, the Royal couple attended by Captain R.H.L.-- --Bewan, evince great interest in all they see. On deck the whole ship's--

--company takes part in a grand march-past. I understand that the Duke--

--and Duchess were especially attracted by the numerous trophies won by the ship's--

--company in various naval competitions. The winners of these--

--trophies are presented to Their Royal Highnesses. A proud moment for the men !

The visit is informal, and the element of surprise makes it all the more appreciated. As the Duke and Duchess leave, the entire crew break--

--out into enthusiastic cheering.
