Picture:- For the opening of Brotherton House, endowed to the National Institute of "Toe H" by-- --Lord Brotherton, the Princess Royal visits Leeds.

The "Toe H" movement started obscurely--

--in France in 1915 as a fellowship--

--for soldiers on active service. Now they are almost a-- --thousand branches, to which this is the latest addition.

"Toe H" is a living memorial of the war, and now exists to promote peace throughout the-- --world. Her Royal Highness was warmly thanked by the sponsors of the--

--movement and by the people of Leeds whom she honoured.
