THROWING OFF THE YOLK - Californian egg farm introduces an amazing invention.

-U.S.A.-

Picture.:- There's no machine as yet which will lay eggs,--

--but here is one which does more ! It carries the hen fruit--

--on a conveyer which leaves the small end of the eggs protuding through the-- --bottom. The sharp toothed saw removes the obtrusive end and out--

--comes the contents. The shells fall into a separate compartment of their-- --own. A little further on,-- --the whites and the yolks part company and are inspected for blood spots - and - er - nasty smells. The-- --Sanitary Inspector is a vacuum cleaner arrangement complete with its own dust bin in which--

--elderly eggs find their-- --last resting place. The rest are turned into powder for cooking purposes. If the hens find out about this - they'll lay - - off work !
