

THRILLS ON THE TRACK - Record crowds attend
holiday meeting at Brooklands.

-Surrey-

Picture.:- For an Easter Holiday, the idea of thousands of people--

--is to do something fast, or see something fast. At--

--Brooklands the Blue Bird and Sir Malcolm--

--Campbell attract countless of holiday-makers. Speeding on-- --the track, the Blue Bird strips a tyre cover which flies up and narrowly misses Sir Malcolm's--

--head. His Blue Bird also gets caught in the rain.

The wingless auto-giro makes rather a counter sensation.

Sir Henry Birkin provides the thrill of the-- --day in getting out of a dangerous double skid.

He narrowly misses dashing over the rim of the banking and plunging to certain death. But that's all in-- --the game, and Sir Henry's resource and nerve win through.

The last thrill was the mountain courserace.

There's the start for the event which has wrecked many cars and hopes.

They've got ten laps to do. Straight and Faulkner keep almost level--

--during the whole course, and cross the line side by side, when --

--Sir Malcolm drops the flag. A breathless thrilling day!
