

NEW "WINDJAMMER" - Three-masted sailing ship,
for use as training ship for Belgian navy, completed at Leith.

-Scotland-

Picture:- Sailing ships are not lost to the Seven Seas ! This--

--three-masted, square-rigged schooner, fresh painted, just from--

--the Shipyard, will soon be dipping her sharp nose into the salt seas, and--

--shaking herself free of the waves which break over her bows.

The "Mercator" has been built for the Belgian Government, and is for use as-- --a training ship for Belgian sailors. These fellows will have to learn sea-shanties before they can do-- --this hauling business really well ! The ship has a displacement of--

--one thousand and fifty tons, and provides quarters for eighty cadets and-- --officers. Good luck, boys ! It's a pity Columbus discovered America ! It's one less job for you !
