"SOCCER" IN SCOTLAND - Final for the Scottish Cup, between Rangers and Kilmarnock at Hampden Park.

-Glasgow-

Picture:- These crowds are streaming into the Scottish Cup Final--

--game at Hampden Park. They are part of the many thousands-- --of people who see this match. While rain falls in-- --the South, the North has sunshine. Kilmarnock takes the field. By the shouting, all Ayre shire must be here.

Rangers follow the Killies, and look the picture of confidence. The crowd is the biggest I have ever seen at football. The ground--

--s boggy. The toss upover,--

--Rangers get away with a dash, but Kilmarnock is standing up to the attack. Bell, Nibloe, and Leslie play coolly under heavy--

--pressure from the Rangers' forwards. Some tricky foot work and the visitors take the offensive.
There's little to--

--choose between the teams, but Kilmarnock is giving the home--

--team a surprise. 112 thousand people paid nearly five thousand pounds to see this drawn game of 1-1.
Here's wishing both teams luck at the re-play.
