RELIABILITY TRIALS - Army authorities subject tanks and armoured cars to thorough tests on the Welsh mountains.

-Near Llangollen-

Picture.:- The Welsh Mountains get a surprise to-day. Strange noises echo through the passes. To-- --enter the Army, machines as well as men have to undergo reliability tests. This--

--tank is climbing a one-in-three hill. If it fails, it will be scrapped ! It doesn't ! It's British !

A new type, six -wheel armoured car hauls its huge bulk up a steep hill track.

This mountain pass has a nasty sharp rise with a loose surface ! A stiff--

--job for any tank ! But it's got to pass the pass to pass the test !
