THE RIVER TRENT BURSTS ITS BANKS - Miles of country inundated as result of heaviest rainfall within living memory.

-Notts.& Lincs.-

Picture.:- The River Trent is somewhere about here, but it's difficult to show just where ! It was so swollen by the recent heavy rains that it burst--

--its banks in several places, and flooded the country side for an area of almost thirty square miles. Farms which were prosperous a week ago are now barren-- --watery wastes. Boats carry marooned people to the nearest dry land--

--to purchase food and necessaries. This is the main Lincoln-Sheffield road.

MUSIC UP FOR TWO SHOTS.

A sense of humour is useful in a crisis like this, but--

--the fact still remains that these floods spell ruination to many people.
