ROYAL "DEPUTY" IN GLASGOW - For the first time in 300 years, the Lord High Commissioner of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland visits the city.

-Scotland-

Picture:- An historic occasion this ! ... Three hundred years is a long-- --time, but it is just so long since a Lord High--

--Commissioner visited Glasgow. Sir Iain Colquhoun is His Majesty's representative to-day. After inspecting the guard of honour,--

--His Grace lays a floral tribute at the foot of the stately stone pile, which is Glasgow's--

--cenotaph to those who fell in the World War. Later during the course of his visit--

--Sir Iain, on behalf of the Prince of Wales, comes to open the new Dental Hospital, which houses all that is modern in dental appliances. An institution, of which Glasgow may well be proud. After declaring the hospital open, the Lord--

--High Commissioner inspects the building. In this room are fifty chairs, each with a range of instruments, formidable enough to drive away the worst--

--toothache ! Thank you, Your Grace, for coming !.. Glasgow hopes to see you again !
