

AERIAL ACTIVITIES - At Northolt, airmen rehearse incidents for the forthcoming Royal Air Force Display.

Picture:- The Royal Air Force is very busy, these days, practicing for its-- --annual display at Hendon. These particular--

--machines are to rehearse "supply dropping by parachute" - - a useful--

--manoeuvre in time of siege. Away they go, on their supposed--

--mission of relief - - and down go the parachutes, carrying supplies to those in need--

--below. The dropping has been well timed - - the parachutes land just where they should. ... A good effort ! You'll-- --have to be quick to see this - - THAT !

It was a machine picking-- --up a message from the ground. Watch again..... (EFFECTS UP HERE).....

That's the way to pick 'em, boys !
