

AIR SENSATION - Nat Brown, American flyer, meets disaster soon after start of projected flight from Seattle to Tokyo. - Washington, U.S.A. -

Picture:- Crowds of well-wishers visit Seattle Aerodrome to--
--see Nat Brown, the cowboy flyer's hop off for-- --the flight to Tokyo. Down a special run-way--
--his plane, the "LONE STAR" takes off. She-- carries 6 hundred and 50 gallons of fuel, and the weight is too much for her. So Brown releases about 50 gallons in order--

EFFECTS SHOT.

--to rise more easily. After hours of flying, he gets to a point off Puget Sound, where a refuelling--

--plane meets him. Three hundred more-- --gallons are required for the next five thousand miles. It's a thrill for--

--the crowd to watch--

--this operation. The extra spirit is--

--taken on board by way--

--of a hose pipe.--

Then it--

--happens ! The hose has fouled the-- --stabiliser ! The plane folds up--

--and explodes,--

--and what's left falls in burning fragments--

--into the water a thousand feet below. The wrecked wing--

--saved the pilot's--

--life. He gets nothing worse--

138851

-2-

AIR SENSATION.

PAUSE FOR NEXT SHOT .

--than a dislocated shoulder. An escape--

--which is nothing short of a miracle. His helper in the-- --parachute Frank Brooks is-- --uninjured. An exclusive Universal story ! One of the most thrilling news items ever told on the screen !