EQUESTRIAN SKILL - - Hussars perform remarkable feats in preparation for the Aldershot Show.

-Hampshire-

Picture:- Are they waiting for dark-eyed signoritas with castenets ? Perhaps !

They're British Cavalrymen anyway, preparing for the Aldershot--

--Show. Picked men from a famous cavalry regiment perform--

--breath-taking feats of horsemanship. Through a human hoop ! There's a thrill, but no kick in this item !

Ordinary hurdling doesn't worry them at all. The horses--

--can't see the costumes, so they don't-- --worry them either. The confidence the soldiers have in their mounts is amazing ! Look at this !

If there's a house call to make, they--

--just hop through the front window,--

--and out quickly again at the back if necessary.

The ordeal by fire is undertaken with the same ease and skill as the rest of the program. Even a smell of singeing--

--doesn't upset them. Our cameraman wonders if they'll pull up in time !

And so say all of us.
