DAVIS CUP TENNIS - Ellsworth Vines (U.S.A.) beats Baron von Cramm (Germany in inter-zone final, in Paris.

- France -

Picture:- Gather round, you tennis enthusiasts and watch a -- -- few shots in the Vines - von-Cramm Singles match.

Whatever happens, it doesn't affect the English hopes, - they were buried at Wimbledon. The German --

-- hope is now doing his best against the 6 ft. American, nearest the camera. The opening play of Von -- Cramm is distinctly promising. His supporters get the idea that -- -- he may win. This slow-motion shot shows his form and also that of Vines. (Count 5) A brilliant return makes the German's hopes rise higher and become more vocal but the young American wizard has more tricks up his sleeve.

Now watch the shot which is just --

-- coming in slow motion. Its uncanny ! Von-Cramm --

-- is worried. Vines lures him to the left, then sends the ball to the extreme right, which just twists round the post.

This victory means that America meets France in --
-- the Challenge Round for the Cup.
