TO AID THE NEEDY - Prince George

visits Bedford to attend "Olde English Fayre" and river pageant organised to help the unemployed.

- Bedfordshire -

Picture:- Lets turn the clock back a couple of -- -- centuries and get a glimpse of ancient rural simplicity of Bedford Olde English Fayre. The Maypole Dance ! No dull --

-- sophistication of the close hauled fox-trotting couples Here !

The arrival of Prince George adds a touch of thrilling romance. After all, where would romantic authors

-- if Princes of olden days hadn't visited places like these !
All the Bedford bloods are learning the language. --

-- They are almost flowing with 'Beshrew me' - 'Odds bodikins' -
'By my halidom' --

-- and coming on rather well with 'a pretty wench forsoothe' - Stap me !

And at nightfall, this illuminated boat procession offers inducement for practice. The beauty and romance of the river, the gaiety of carnival -- and all that sort of thing --

-- well, it helps ! The event is organized to benefit the Mayor of Bedford's Unemployed Fund. Success to it ! The novelty and merit of the Fayre should reap a generous reward !
