

2-12p851

THE NAVY AT HOME - Chatham prepares for Navy Week, when tens of thousands will visit the fleet in home ports.
- Kent -

---

Picture:- The Navy prepares to receive visitors. From Mammoth --

-- warships to this model of the Old Kent, manned --
-- by a dozen seamen, costumes to make the illusion complete, all --
-- are on view to those who wish to -- -- see Britain's might at close quarters. There goes a torpedo - the terror of brave fighters.

On St. Mary's Island, Chatham, blue jackets critically enjoy their own --

-- show. Its a change for some of them to watch this sort of thing - they usually have to do it ! But watching or working, they're a cheery lot, these Jack Tars --

-- as a rule. His girl hasn't turned up !

Villagers carouse while Nelson fights and wins battles. The Admiral wants --

-- more men, so the press gang interrupts --

-- and there are some more girls with sailor sweethearts!
Those were the good old days !

Tax payers, Navy Week's your chance to inspect your property !