POLICE IN THE RIVER - A dozen stalwarts of Wallasey in annual swimming race from Birkenhead to New Brighton.
- River Mersey -

Picture:- Without their helmets and whistles, you wouldn't know these from ordinary men - but they're policemen ! The annual swimming race for Wallasey 'Bobbies' is a quick affair. If you've never seen Robert in a hurry, watch closely. They've got four --

-- and a half miles to go and they're getting it over -- -- quickly. One competitor soon takes the lead, going so -- -- fast that his pilot boat can't catch him. Inspector Sandland crosses --
-- the finishing line lengths ahead, winning the Challenge Cup for the third year in succession. If you want to escape from Wallasey -- -- Police, don't try swimming. Inspector receives his -- -- Chief's congratulations, when for the third time he 'Comes up for the CUP' !
