

FEATHERED THIEVES -- Gulls raid the fish-market at Newlyn Harbour and help themselves to free meals.
-Cornwall-

Picture:- Like the old picture "Waiting for the Snacks!"

I'm sorry ! I thought it was quite artistic. Never mind !

If it's true that eating fish stimulates the brain, then Newlyn--

--should be super-intelligent, for it lives on fish ! That's why--

--performing seals are so clever. They live on it ! Oh that reminds me !

The sea-gulls here are trained ! There are thousands of them,--

--and they all do a job of work for the town ! When the catch is put off the--

--boats, the fish are gutted and cleaned. Sounds unpleasant,--

--but that's what happens ! And this is where the--

--gulls come in ! They gobble up the offal ! And save the dustmen--

--lots of bother. Some times they overstep the mark and steal the fish ! This of course--

--is sheer laziness on their part. If they want fresh whole fish they ought-- --to dive for it - - so they're sent off in--

--disgrace and sit on the beach peevishly waiting for the next catch to arrive.