

"NO CALL FOR AID UNANSWERED" - - Arbroath gives a 'right royal' welcome to the Duchess of York when she visits the seaport to name its new lifeboat.

-Scotland-

Picture:- The Duchess steps right into the hearts of the people of Arbroath. It's--

--a way she has. Ex-service fishermen form--

--the guard of honour for Her Royal Highness, who has a word with many of them--

--before turning to the main object of her visit. ...
 She is here to--

--name the "JOHN AND WILLIAM MUDIE", the latest addition to the life-boat fleet.

Sorry there's a man in the way of a better view-- --of the actual christening - - just our bad luck !

The Duchess of York is nothing if not thorough in all she does; so she boards the newly named boat--

--and greets the crew. 'Salt of the earth' are these-- --men of the sea. Their cup of happiness is full as--

--they take the royal sponsor of their craft for a tour of--

--the harbour. Whenever the 'JOHN AND WILLIAM MUDIE' gets a call from a vessel in--

--distress, you may be sure her gallant crew will remember this great day.

..... The worst thing about a visit of this kind is that it must end sometime !
