MANX GRAND PRIX - - J.H. Carr, of Southport, wins thrilling round-the-island race from over fifty contestants. -Isle of Man-

Picture:- Now, ladies and gentlemen, we are taking you over to the--

--Isle of Man to see, in company with a big crowd,--

--the first man away in the race for-- --the Manx Motor Cycle Grand Prix. Negotiating mountain roads at speed--

--like those of Snaefell is a--

--tough proposition. Fifty-three youthful speed merchants go--

--as near as possible to breaking their necks--

--without actually doing it, in a daring effort-- --to break records. Governor's Bridge, nearing home, sees some high speeds,--

--and a few skids. At the final corners, appalling chances--

--are taken before entering the straight-- --leading to the winning post. Throttles are full open as the--

--machines fly past. The-- --event is won by--

--a Skipton butcher, J.H.Carr, of Southport Club, a daring --

--rider, who has many other victories to his credit.
