THE "FLYING FAMILY" - - Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson, and their two little daughters, who faced the hazards of trans-Atlantic flight.

Pictara:- Some people are born lucky ! The Hutchinson
"Flying Family"--

--is an example ! When the full complement of their amphibian machine clambered aboard at New York , they certainly carried their luck with them. Several successful jumps of hundreds of miles were made during--

--which many happy radio messages were flashed--

--from air to earth. Then the plane failed--

--them and they hit desolate Greenland. Mr. Hutchinson sent-- --out a despairing S.O.S. Ships of-- --the Northern World searched ice-bound seas and coasts.

An Aberdeen trawler found them, turning near tragedy into relief and rescue. That's luck ! - - or Providence watching those kiddies !
