FLYWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT - - Jackie Brown retains British title as Jim Maharg, Scottish champion, is disqualified for hitting low.

-Belle Vue, Manchester-

Picture:- The fight for the flyweight championship of Britain ! Jackie Brown, the present holder, meets Jim--

--Maharg, the Scottish champion. Maharg is known as a dangerous challenger, but his superiority--

--to Brown is doubtful. He is fast, but not very effective.

That's the opinion of the crowd anyway !

Brown continually lands a rain of telling punches to the body. The champion is clever enough--

--to - - Hello ! - - A low punch to the groin sends Brown to his knees. He seems hurt, but gets up-- --and looks none the worse in the next round. His brisk attack doesn't give Maharg much chance to fight anything but a losing battle. He is so busy defending that he has practically no time to develop an-- --attack of his own. The foul has knocked Brown out.

The crowd is getting angry about it. But on points the champion gets the verdict and retains the title.
