THE PRINCESS ROYAL - - -opens new Women's Training Centre for unemployed of the North-Eastern counties, at Harrogate.

-Yorkshire-

Picture.:- The Princess Royal arrives to open the Harrogate--

--Women's Training Centre. Even if like the Irishmen we are again the Government,--

--we cannot help ^{but} approve-- --of this government scheme. The idea is to train in domestic science--

--unemployed girls who are victims of trade depression in their own occupations. Eight-- --weeks training is given free, together with a uniform, and a weekly spot of pocket--

--money. The scheme has centres in several districts, and has saved many a girl from a perilous position during these difficult times. In opening this institute the Princess Royal--

--has furthered a task of great service.
