LIFEBOAT'S RACE - -

Crews from all the big liners in harbour straggle for honour of winning gruelling contest.

-New York-

Picture:- A race between the lifeboat crews of Atlantic liners ! It's really a 2-miles endurance contest. A most gruelling trial for muscle and stamina !

Each boat weighs 55 hundred pounds - - an unheard of handicap in a sculling race. It would be-- --interesting to see how an--

--Oxford or Cambridge crew would stay the course--

--under such condations. The Norwegian crew of the--

--Bergensfiord boat are making the pace.

Their ship only arrived in harbour this morning, but they're well ahead. (Gun). Across the line with oars smartly raised to announce their victory for the Norwegian-American Line. Two miles--

--in 17½ minutes sets another record !
