

2-0411021

A WARM RECEPTION - - Architectural students of Mexico City extend a hearty welcome to those who dare to enter their age-old profession.

-Mexico-

Picture.:- Youth will have its day, and the new college students of Architecture have-- --a day and a half. A first-class rag serves to initiate them into the complexities--

--of Mexican College life. It's a quaint old Spanish custom to call all the-- --Freshmen dogs. And that's the way--

--they're treated too. First they must parade in-- --fancy dress, and then they parade in the least-- --expensive dress of all ! The-- --birthday suit. A grand mogul of ceremonies orders the real work to commence.

A sticky mixture of tar and--

--green paint is applied to the Freshman's--

--person followed by a close foundation coat of feathers.No--

--one who has not endured this pleasantry can possibly be fitted to receive the architect's education. Well--

--if there's one thing I don't want to be, it's an architect !