TERRITORIAL SUNDAY IN LIVERPOOL - - Lord Derby takes the salute from big parade of "Terriers" at St. George's Hall.

-Lancashire-

Picture.:-"Old Soldiers Never die", which proves that the young ones grow old in service. Lord--

--Derby takes the salute of the Liverpool Territorials--

--on the occasion of their special Sunday. He is supported by Major-General--

--G.A. Weir, commanding the 55th Division, Mr. Justice--

--Laurence, and the City's Lord Mayor. The crowds--

--which have gathered to witness the parade show that Liverpool is proud of its "Terriers". The Scottish contingent is strong,--

--because the Mersey industries require lots of-- --heads of departments. The City's contribution of men in the Great--

--War can be gaged by the rally of Old Contemptibles, British Legion members and other--

--ex-Service association groups. Liverpool's voice is for the throne and country.
