

2-955951

OUR LADS IN BLUE - - Naval boys' training establishment at Shotley installs tank with captive boat for rowing instruction.

-Exsex-

---

Picture. :- A boat which will never go to sea. Although the boys will, who row in it. It's-- --a new idea installed at the Naval Boys' Training-- --Establishment at Shotley. Ability to handle an oar is essential to these sailors to be. The-- --rowing tank enables the instructor to explain and demonstrate the movements under more placid conditions than a--

--billowy sea will sometimes allow. After preliminaries in the Tank, the boys advance-- --to the real thing, and life on the ocean wave commences.

For this first demonstration the-- --school is visited by the First Lord of the Admiralty,--

--Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell. If things--

--political go well, the Navy should offer a peaceful and healthy career.