

1750 TH ANNIVERSARY - - Japanese celebrate, with mock battle, the defeat of Korea, in the year 182 AD.

Picture:- The Japs have a tenacious memory. The event they are celebrating happened in the year one hundred and eighty-two,-- --seventeen-hundred and fifty years ago. The cheerful occasion was when they--

--defeated Korea. The floats represent the Japs and the enemy.

The Korean floats always get turned over to--

--suggest their defeat, but this year the Koreans-- --turned the tables, and started upsetting the Japs. For a time the situation looks very--

--nasty, and in the middle-- --of a crowd of over one hundred thousand the--

--makings of a good riot threatened--

--to develop. But the Police calmed the natives down and the day ends without bloodshed.
