

NAVAL OFFICERS-TO-BE - Cadets aboard H.M.S. Frobisher, the Navy's first sea-going training ship since 1914, inspected prior to initial cruise.
- Sheerness -

---

Picture:- His Majesty's ship "Frobisher" prepares to sail for the West Indies, taking one -- -- hundred and thirteen cadets with her. The second and fourth sea lords, Vice Admiral Pound and Rear Admiral Blake come aboard to inspect the ship and the arrangements made to accomodate the cadets. Frobisher is the first cruiser to be commissioned as -- -- a sea-going training ship since 1914. On this vessel future officers have to -- -- take part in all duties undertaken by men of the lower deck.

The --

-- training gives them a working knowledge of how a warship is run and kept clean --

-- and get their sea legs before passing to -- -- fighting ships of the Fleet. Even sail making is taught. -- -- In a few years the boys will obtain commissioned --

-- rank. Amongst them will be found our future admirals !