JOINING UP ! Young conscripts, called to the colours, bid joyous farewell to civil life as they leave Villefranche-sur-Saone for training camps;

-France-

Picture.:- I wonder if these fellows really feel as joyful as they are trying to appear. They are young Frenchmen about to join the ranks of the Army of 'La Belle France', and the top-hats and bouquets are part--

--of the glad disguise. The supporting old timers are probably really happy in the knowledge that their military service is behind them. It's a great day for them all ! At the finish corks and kisses pop, and everybody wishes everybody else everything that's good !

The next morning they wake up in barracks, wondering why they celebrated !
