

5-888851

"FETE DE LAS FLORES" - - Whole population of Santa Anita ceases work to take part in annual picturesque festival of flowers.

-Mexico-

Y

Picture:- Mexico forgets revolutions to-day, and makes it--

--a Battle of Flowers. Wreaths are used to surmount--
--faces bright with dark--
--flashing eyes and white teeth. A festival--
--of blossoms. Everybody, including the youngsters dress up--
--in their Sunday best, and Mexican Sunday Best is worth a second look.

Canal barges loaded with unromantic--

--things like cows, cabbages and firewood are hidden away for--
--one day only, and the canals become alive with smiling signoritas, watching their boy--
--friends push the decorated barges. There's a flower queen for--
--whom everyone gives up a day's work to show their allegiance and their best clothes. On a quiet day like this Mexico has its attractions.