HE BROUGHT PLEASURE TO MILLIONS - - Showmen attending King's Lynn fair pay tribute to the memory of Frederick Savage, inventor of the steam round-about.

Picture. :- A boy named Frederick Savage started work at a wage of 2/6d per week for searing crows.
This --

--monument at King's Lynn--

--is erected to that boy's memory. From crow-searing his ambitions and talent led him to study engineering. Later he invented the steam merry-go-round,--

--which has given pleasure to millions.
The present Mayor lays a-- --wreath on the memorial of his late friend and colleague. Hundreds of fair-ground showmen pay homage to Frederick Savage, engineer, industrialist,--

--the travelling showmen's inventor, and good citizen
