

2-454951

A LOVELY BRIDE - - Big crowds gather outside Brompton Oratory to see Miss Margaret Whigham on her marriage to Mr. Charles Sweeney, the American golfer.

-London-

---

Picture.:- The church of Brompton Oratory is to-day the scene--

--of "a dream of fair women". Nine winsome bridesmaids in silver--

--and white arrive to attend on the bride - - Miss Margaret --

--Whigham, one of society's most beautiful girls. She is to marry Mr. Charles Sweeney,--

--the American golfer. Outside - - and inside - - the railings of the Oratory thousands gather to--

--catch a glimpse of the girl whose beauty has earned--

--her the title of the "Queen of Debutantes". Her loveliness is enhanced by her white satin gown embroidered--

--with pearls. See the cameraman ? This is surely the most photographed wedding of the season ? All around one can hear deep gasps of admiration and perhaps envy, as the couple--

--pass to their car. The chief--

--thrill is over. They have seen her. The present of the Prince of Wales to--

--the bridegroom is a set of--

--gold cuff links. Everyone wishes the fortunate couple happiness and long life.