RAILWAY SMASH - - Two goods trains crash - - 43 trucks derailed - - and not a single person seriously injured !
-Near Berwick-on-Tweed-

Picture:- A collision in pitch darkness of two trains at a remote--

--spot a few miles south of Berwick-on-Tweed happily caused no loss of life.

It did, however, injure two brave men.
Firemen Lough realized that the 'Flying Scotsman'--

--was soon due to pass over the wrecked lines. Badly crushed, he crawled five hundred yards through the snow to a signal box to give the alarm, but-- --collapsed. Miles away, the express, with its load of passengers--

--thundered on. Meanwhile Guard Bowmaker, not so badly injured had reached a signal box.
The alarm was given. Truth is stranger than fiction. The signalman in charge was Bowmaker's own brother !
