WIELDING THE WILLOW - - Young men of Yorkshire learn how to "play the game" under the guidance of George Hirst, the famous cricketer.

-Leeds-

---

Picture.:- All these young cricketers are the sons of Yorkshire County Club players. Every year--

--George Hirst gives such youngsters the benefit--

--of his great knowledge of the game;. showing the-- --boys how it ought-- --to be done, and how to remedy faults in style. They don't care if--

--it snows, because the practice is under cover. Mr. Hirst--

--specially applies himself to explaining the 'leg theory', and how to--

--avoid being laid out. He should have told the Australians all that.

It is rumoured that when these--

--fellows get really good, a crowd of loud voiced--

--film extras are going to be hired--

--to get them used to barracking in case they ever play--

--down under in the test of endurance and cricket.
