PREMIER IN ROME - - Signor Mussolini greets Mr. MacDonald on arrival to discuss armament and political truce.

-Italy-

Picture.:- The Meeting between the British and Italian premiers is expected to write clear history -

--over the confused page of Europe's present chaos. Mr.
MacDonald's--

--plane was delayed an hour by a raging, but quite non-political--

--storm. Signor Mussolini's welcome to the Prime Minister was warm and sincere. Both are men of great political eminence, anxious to assist in securing peace and plenty in our time. Miss Isabel MacDonald accompanied her father, and stepping to land was presented with a bouquet. Sir John Simon completed the party.

The Italian crowds applaud the statesmen and Italian pressmen click their camera shutters.

This is the first time--

--the British Premier and Italy's dictator have met face to face. Their conversations--

--have resulted in a liberal and bold plan being suggested to the-- --other powers. A drastic remedy for a drastic situation. All success to it !
