

LEO'S "SATURDAY NIGHT" - - Soap, water, and plenty of pluck are needed to give jungle king his weekly bath.

Picture:-

After graduating by bathing the family-twins single-handed, the Zoo attendant is-- --considered capable of lathering Leo. Lions are seldom--

--given baths. They catch cold too easily. This one likes it, so they-- --say. What he says is best guessed at. (Snarl) It doesn't sound too polite to me.

The spray smooths his ruffled feelings and his hair, and the rub--

--down makes him quite affectionate. (PURR).
Well, it's few human beings who--

--can look as dignified as that in a bath-tub.
