

DANCING ON THE ROOF - - Tiny pupils of a Scottish dancing school welcome the Spring sunshine, and the outdoor lessons it brings.

-Edinburgh-

---

Picture.:-

This is one of the things those recent days of sunshine brought about ! An Edinburgh lady looked out of her window--

--one morning and saw this fairy-like scene on the distant roof across the way. For a moment she thought--

--her eyes deceived her, but discovered that it was-- --just a dancing diversion being indulged in by perfectly human little youngsters. Spring, with her delicate tracery--

--of new life in fresh colours affects us all in some manner or other,--

--and this is one way for the very young to express-- --the joys of spring warmth and sunshine. And all among the chimney-pots ! Some people-- --think themselves lucky to have a roof over their heads. These kiddies think it luckier to have one under their feet !