ROSE WEDDING - - Pretty scenes when the Earl of Warwick and Miss Rose Bingham are married in tiny Sussex Church.

-Glynde-

Picture.:-

One of the most picturesque weddings of the year, if not the--

--most picturesque . Some of the guests have arrived by aeroplane and landed in a small field nearby.

Through that enchanting little village church porch will soon--

--pass Miss Rose Bingham, the bride. She is accompanied by her uncle Lieutenant-Colonel Bingham. Her father, a Coldstream Guards officer was killed in the Great War during the first month--

--of fighting, when his baby daughter was but--

--a few months old. The whole village of Glynde,--

--including the oldest inhabitant has--

--turned out to wish every happiness to--

--Miss Rose, as she is affectionately known and her husband, the Earl of Warwick(PAUSE).

The bride's dress is of rose-petal satin, with a--
--long grain of lace carried by--

--Lady Patricia Brand, her half sister and a tiny page.

The reception is to be held at Littledene, the home of Lady Rosabelle Brand, the-- --bride's mother. The bride grants our cameras a special smile. A charming favour for which we thank her.

Everybody wishes the Earl and his fair lady the greatest happiness.
