Some wonderful views of the boat-race between the four principle universities of America - - Harvard, Cornell, Yale--

--and Washington. Unique 'shots' from the air are taken from-- --a blimp. Washington is recovering from a poor start--

--and Harvard is falling behind. There's the view from inside--

--the blimp. Harvard and Cornell are practically out of--

--it, and the final tussle is between Washington and Yale.

A very even race ! A last desperate effort by Washington--

--when almost at the post, gives them a slight lead. Just enough to win !! Only six feet in it ! A snatch victory !
